DAVIS THEATRE.

Another Big Five Act Vaudeville Show for the Last Half of the Week,

For the last half of the week the management of the Davis has booked management of the Davis has booked another five act vaudeville show that could not be seen anywhere else for the money. Heading today's bill is The Cycling Reynards, a clever team, of comedy cyclists who do a lot of surprising feats on the wheel combining skill with comedy that is original and is sure to be a big hit. Love and Leslie are two real live comedians of the old school who have a line of talk old school who have a line of talk that will make laughs come every minute. Scottie is a musical artist who plays the violin in a masterly manner and keeps his audience in good humor all the time with his droll Scotch comedy. You will take to him right from the start. The LaDuc Sisters are two very clever lady gymnasts who do some remarkable acrobatic work that is seldom attempted by lady performers, and Fred Martine as a monolo-guist is in a class by himself. His stories are all bright and right up to date. Out of the whole five acts there is not one weak spot on the bill, everything is different and will be sure to prove a good two hours' enjoyment

In the photoplays today the feature is a two reel K. B. western drama called The Arrow Maker's Daughter, a powerful story of the early days in the west. The famous Mutual Weekly is also shown with many new and interesting avenue, provinged. teresting events portrayed that are educational as well as entertaining. The comedy is a Keystone called That Ragtime Band. This picture was shown here before, but there have been so many requests for it that the management secured it for this change. Nothing funnier has ever been shown on a picture screen. The photoplays will be changed again tomorrow and the sixth reel of Our Mutual Girl will be one of the special features for Fri-day and Saturday.

Notable Plays to Be Seen Next Week at Popular Prices.

The Myrkle-Harder company that plays here next week at the Davis theatre, has the most notable produc-tions that have ever been presented at popular prices and from reports from other cities their plays are presented on a scale that will compare with any of the so-called $1.50 and $2.00 productions that produce but one play

The plays include The Spendthrift, by Petter Emerson Brown, also author of A Fool There Was, New York city's at his latest dramatic success. The play tells the story of a man's devotion and a the story of a man's devotion and a woman's extravagance that spells ruln to so many of the leaders of society and their followers. It is a play that every man, woman and child should see, as the truth and beautiful morals will ring in one's mind for days and weeks after the play has been seen. Other productions are The Third Degree, The Fortune Hunter, The Great Divide, Quincy Adams Sawyer, The Girl in Waiting, The opening play will be The Fortune Hunter. Sale of seats opens Friday morning.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Love's Sunset, Remarkable Two Reel Vitagraph Feature Today.

It is not often that two such strong favorites as Clara Kimball Young and Earl Williams appear on the same program, but the Colonial theatre offers today. Love's Sunset, one of the prettiest and most delightful love dramas of the season, with these two oralized of the season, with these two popular people as hero and heroine. The story tells of an artist, who, wrapped up in his work, does not care for the ladies, but his friend is fascinated with a cabaret dancer, and pays her ardyous attention until tired of her then he goes to Europe. She then her, then he goes to Europe. She then starts out looking for employment and becomes governess, and strangely enough in a family where the artist is a firm friend. Here he sees her again and this time takes the opportunity to improve his acquaintance and event maliy marries her without knowing her identity. Her former friend hearing of the artist's marriage makes a cail upon him, only to find the cabaret dancer the bride. She has loved the artist too well to tell him that which would make him discard her, but now tells all. He drives her from the house and then she falls steadily until res-cued by the Salvation Army, How she is returned to her old home is best told in the film. Other big and popu-lar dramas complete the bill.

New Acts at Auditorium Today.

Today is the last chance to witness the great three-reel imp feature The Militant, which deals with the problem of equal suffrage as it applies to England. The contrast between the nettools of the militant suffragettes in Europe and the followers of the cause in America are strongly defined and effect seeing this picture, it is easily endesstood why the militants many spectacials screens showing the destruction of inights and houses by ynamic, and some sensational mobility and som

On the light fantastic toe,
Spring is tripping lightly in.
But we know not yet if she
Thinks in dancing style to win.
Maybe 'tis a dance of two,
With one, now the other seen.
First, a flurry of white snow,
Then a gilmpse of budding green.

Is spring just a merry flirt
With the winter playing so,
the the latter, white-haired, old,
Tripping gayly o'er the snow?
Bringing warmth in sunny smile,
Till the winter has forgot
All his ley ways, and joined
